David M. Cordani

President and Chief Executive Officer

As a health service company, Cigna is committed to improving the health, well-being and peace of mind of our 160 million customer and patient relationships around the world. Our global workforce takes tremendous pride in embracing this mission and serving as champions for our customers, patients and communities.

Health care in the United States remains highly dynamic. With rising costs, aging populations, increases in chronic disease and rapid technological innovation, individual consumers now more than ever seek affordable, personalized and simplified health care. Through tailored solutions and continued investments in innovation, Cigna strives to deliver greater choice to our customers, and through our recent acquisition of Express Scripts, we are even better equipped to address their need for greater affordability, quality and personalization.

At Cigna, we view our role as the connective tissue convening employers, health care professionals and policy makers to contribute to a more sustainable health care system. Together with these stakeholders, we can help to accelerate the shift from a system focused on sick care to one that emphasizes health care, and which will be able to best address the evolving needs of consumers.

I am pleased to share the 2018 Political Contributions and Lobbying Activity Report, which offers details about our political contributions, advocacy efforts and the annual report of the Cigna Political Action Committee (CignaPAC.) We've created this report to provide transparency and insight into how we translate our mission into constructive engagement with elected officials. These political contributions are part of Cigna's broader federal and state lobbying and advocacy efforts.

In 2019 and beyond, we will continue making strides toward a more sustainable health care system, and actively engage in public policy efforts to help make this goal a reality for our customers and patients.

Overview and Governance

Cigna takes its engagement in the legislative, regulatory and public policy areas very seriously, approaching all our efforts with care and integrity. There are two major components of Cigna's political activity: (1) political contributions and (2) lobbying efforts. This report is organized to provide information on both of these activities.

As Cigna engages in political activity, it adheres to strict governance standards designed to ensure alignment with Cigna's mission and strategic goals. All political contributions that are made directly by the Company must be made in accordance with Cigna's Political Contributions policy, which requires, among other things, oversight of decisions at the highest corporate level. Political contributions that are made through CignaPAC are reviewed and approved by the CignaPAC board, comprised of executive-level Cigna leadership and other business leaders, in accordance with the CignaPAC Contribution Guidelines.

With respect to the Company's lobbying activities, the Vice President of Global Public Policy and Federal Government Affairs and the Vice President of State Government Affairs report directly to the General Counsel and review lobbying efforts with Cigna's enterprise leadership, including the Chief Executive Officer, on a regular basis. Additionally, all memberships in trade associations are reviewed by the General Counsel and the Chief Executive Officer.

The Company also maintains an Enterprise Risk Management function. This company-wide initiative involves the Board (and its committees), Cigna's management, Cigna's Chief Risk Officer and General Auditor, and Cigna's internal audit function. Together, they work in an integrated effort to (1) identify, assess, prioritize and monitor (as each of their roles dictates) a broad range of risks (e.g., financial, operational, business, compliance, reputational, governance and managerial), and (2) formulate and execute plans to monitor and, to the extent possible, mitigate the effect of those risks.

Within this enterprise risk framework, the Corporate Governance Committee of Cigna's Board of Directors has oversight of and evaluates any material financial, legal, reputational or other risks associated with Cigna's corporate political spending and lobbying activities. In addition, the Corporate Governance Committee biannually reviews compliance with Cigna's Political Contributions policy, including the contributions made under that policy by the Company during the previous year, and annually reviews lobbying expenses and trade association memberships.

Political Contributions

Cigna regularly supports federal, state and local officials, candidates, parties and other politically oriented groups and organizations that the Company believes can advance its mission, business objectives and goals, including principles or issues that support Cigna's vision for a sustainable health care system. As Cigna considers making political contributions, it is always guided by the Company's strategy and mission, demonstrating an eagerness to work with officials of various political and philosophical beliefs and without regard for the private political preferences of its executives.

Contributions attributable to Cigna are made in two ways: (1) Corporate contributions and (2) through CignaPAC. Cigna has strict standards in place governing its political giving activity, and all its contributions are made in accordance with applicable state and federal laws. In addition, the Company keeps the work of the CignaPAC separate from other Company giving. Accordingly, this section of the report provides information specific to Cigna's direct corporate contributions, and the 2018 CignaPAC Annual Report at the end of the report provides information regarding contributions made through CignaPAC.

Corporate Contributions

In 2018, Cigna made the following non-CignaPAC corporate contributions to support our advocacy efforts.

	Party	Amount
Democratic Governors Association	D	$100,000
Republican Governors Association	R	$100,000
Democratic Attorneys General Association	D	$50,000
Republican Attorneys General Association	R	$50,000

In certain states, corporations are permitted to contribute to state election campaigns. The Cigna Political Contributions policy authorizes the use of corporate funds for state contributions on an exception-only basis, requiring the express approval of the General Counsel of the Company after consultation with the Chief Executive Officer.

In 2018, Cigna did not directly contribute to any state level candidates. Cigna did contribute to the following state party committees:

	Party	Amount
New York Democratic Committee Housekeeping Account	D	$10,000
New York Senate Republican Campaign Committee	R	$20,000
New York Democratic Assembly Campaign Committee	D	$20,000

Cigna did not make any ballot measure or independent expenditures in 2018.

Sustained Lobbying Activity and Priorities

Cigna engages in lobbying activity to support its position on public policy issues within federal and state political, legislative and regulatory environments. The Company uses both internal and external resources at the federal and state levels, including memberships in trade associations.

In 2018, Cigna focused its lobbying efforts on advancing public policies in support of our global business and our clients' and customers' needs and interests. Such policies include increasing access to affordable health care; incentives and information to drive better health care and value-based buying decisions; and marketplace competition to afford consumers a wide range of choices to meet their unique health care needs.

Cigna is engaged on fiscal matters, tax policies related to health care, trade policy and health care information technology matters at the federal level. In addition, Cigna has promoted the value and benefits of the Medicare Advantage program, on behalf of the more than 20 million seniors who value the high-quality coverage they receive.

Cigna also engages in the states and at the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC). The NAIC is a state-based, standard-setting organization, whose membership consists of regulators from the 50 states, the District of Columbia and five U.S. territories. The NAIC, which has been coordinating regulatory activity among the states and territories for more than 100 years, is a valuable forum for us to advocate on a number of priority issues that influence the sustainability of competitive insurance markets.

Trade Association Memberships

Cigna views its memberships in trade associations as an extension of its internal and sustained lobbying efforts. While Cigna recognizes that many of the groups it participates in have broad memberships with sometimes differing views, the Company believes that such organizations can encourage dialogue on important policy issues, ultimately helping to move issues forward. Cigna also believes that to be effective and informed, it is important to be exposed to many differing perspectives, whether we agree on all points, the ultimate solutions, or the appropriate pathway to pursue on a wide variety of issues. Active participation in industry-related trade associations is critical in shaping Cigna's response to legislative changes.

Because of this breadth and depth of views on key health care issues, Cigna believes memberships in these organizations are generally consistent with the Company's interests, including those of its shareholders and customers.

In addition to trade associations, Cigna also may participate in coalitions or other affinity groups with common interests. The Company relies on these industry trade associations and other business organizations to address issues relevant to Cigna and/or its clients and to provide educational and other benefits. Cigna evaluates the benefits of membership in any particular trade or business organization by considering a number of factors, including:

- › Breadth and relevance of issues they cover.
- › Composition of membership.
- › Effectiveness in communicating and advocating issues.

Certain dues paid to these organizations may be used to support federal lobbying activity.

In 2018, Cigna belonged to the following industry trade associations with more than $50,000 in annual dues:

Trade association	Membership dues	Portion allocated to nondeductible lobbying expense

About CignaPAC

CignaPAC is Cigna's political action committee, a separate, segregated fund established and operated by Cigna, that is funded entirely by voluntary contributions from eligible employees and regulated by federal and/or state governments. The CignaPAC financially supports the election campaigns of candidates who share our views on policy issues, represent areas of geographic importance or meet other criteria deemed appropriate by the CignaPAC Board of Directors. The CignaPAC also engages in the process by supporting national and state party committees, as well as other political action committees and organizations.

The CignaPAC's contribution strategy is values-based and nonpartisan. Through CignaPAC, Cigna employees are able to stand together as a strong, unified voice, contributing to public debates on issues critical to our business, customers and our country.

The CignaPAC is committed to transparency regarding its activities. Cigna obeys all laws in promoting its positions to government authorities, and all contributions made by CignaPAC comply with all applicable campaign finance regulations.

Board Oversight

CignaPAC is governed by the CignaPAC Board of Directors, which oversees contributions made with CignaPAC funds. CignaPAC has also established a separate but related state political action committee in New York, and it is referenced collectively in this report as the CignaPAC. CignaPAC makes political contributions on behalf of Cigna's business interests pursuant to the approval process for CignaPAC contributions and in accordance with the CignaPAC Articles of Organization.

CignaPAC Contribution Strategy

CignaPAC directs contributions to candidates based on a variety of criteria, such as:

- › Committee assignments and leadership positions.
- › Geographic concentration of Cigna employees in a district or state.
- › Candidates' views on specific or emerging business issue(s).
- › Candidates' viability.

Contributions to state candidates are concentrated in key business states as determined by market share, health plan customer base and business revenues. Contributions are made to campaigns or initiatives consistent with Cigna's mission.

Party affiliation does not determine support. CignaPAC will support challengers over incumbents if incumbents regularly support legislation inconsistent with Cigna positions. CignaPAC does not participate in presidential primary or general election contests.

Proposed CignaPAC contributions are reviewed in advance and approved by the CignaPAC Board.

Set forth on the following pages are the political contributions made by CignaPAC in 2018.
